noticed something protruding from the infant's side, and she pulled out a small cambic needle, to which was attached a short thread. For several weeks the child had been fretful, with a slow grade of fever. It is the supposition that the little fellow swallowed the needle.

Quite a joke is going the rounds of the senior class. One of their number spent a pleasant evening lately during the course of which hard cider was the chief beverage. Its effect on his good health was peculiar, so peculiar in fact that in rumaging around in his mind for the cause he could assign it to nothing else than the eating of some colored candy beans.

YEARS OF LAWING.
HISTORY OF THE CELEBRATED TURPIE-LOWE CASE.

Original Demand Was for $200,000 Damages—Five Trials, Forty Witnesses Dead, and Other Details.

The celebrated case of James Turpie, brother of ex-Senator Turpie, vs. Hugh Lowe is finished for a time at least after a period of litigation covering many years. It was begun in the White circuit court in February, 1886, a demand for $200,000 damages being made through an alleged breach of trust on the part of Lowe, who had assumed Turpie's liabilities under an agreement to pay them off as they became due. It was agreed that Lowe should pay Turpie a certain amount in cash and the suit was caused by an alleged violation of the contract. The case was tried in May, 1886, and the jury disagreed.
A second trial before Judge Adams, of the Clinton circuit court, resulted in a finding for defendant. This decision was reversed on appeal to the supreme court in March, 1888. The next hearing was in the Cass circuit court on a change of venue and the decision satisfying neither side, a new trial was granted by agreement. This action was consolidated with one brought by one Horner to collect certain debts due him from the Turpies which it was claimed Lowe had agreed to pay and with another suit brought by the Turpie wives for the value of lands in Ohio, which it was claimed Lowe had agreed to convey to them. The consolidated cases were set down before Judge Fraser, who ordered additional parties to be made and by this step one Jones was interested as a cross complainant, demanding of Lowe the value of lands in Indiana which it was alleged he had been promised. Over three months was consumed in a hearing, which ended in a special finding of facts and judgment in favor of all against Lowe, aggregating $33,872. This judgment was reversed on appeal to the supreme court in May, 1890. The fifth trial was in the Cass circuit court before Judge Watkins, of Huntington, as special judge.
Trial was commenced in October, 1899, and ended Thursday evening in a victory for Lowe, the findings giving him a judgment for $12,067. Several inter-missions were granted for hunting up evidence. The three cases which have been consolidated were also tried separately. The attorneys in the last case were D. C. Justice, M. Winfield, and E.
B. Sellers for plaintiffs, and R. P.
Davidson, of Lafayette, and Guthrie & Hushnell, of Monticello, for the defendant.

Obituary.
Harry B. Reeves, a former resident of this city, died at his home in St. Joe Saturday night at half past eleven o'clock.
Mr. Reeves was born in Warren, Ohio, Feb. 16, 1829, being at the time of his death 70 years, 11 mos., 6 days old. It was not until the year 1863 that he became a citizen of this place, but since that time he has almost constantly made this his home. He has been engaged during life in several occupations. He was at one time proprietor of the Ross House and at another of a hotel in Delphos, Ind. He was for a time a dry goods merchant and for several years was an employee of the firm of Buck & Toan. In 1891 he was elected Justice of the Peace on the republican ticket and again in '98, but he shortly after moved to St. Joe where he has made his home since then.
He has been afflicted for a long time with a cancer of the tongue and mouth and it was that which brought about his death.

He was married twice, first to Esther Dowd and Minerva Price. There survive him one child by his first wife, Lucy Ella Reeves and three by his second, James, Fitz and Beatie, besides two brothers and two sisters, Stephen E. and Mrs. Alice Morrill, of this place, Albert L. of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Laura W. Norton, of Newcastle, Pa.

The remains reached this city on Monday and were taken to the Methodist church where at 1:30 a Masonic funeral was held. Burial was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Justices Want Mileage.
Attorney General Taylor has been busy the last few days with his correspondence with the justices of the peace throughout the state, says the Indianapolis Journal. At the last session of the legislature a law was passed which provided that all justices of the peace should make an annual settlement with the county treasurer in which his billing was situated. At the same time it was further enacted that the justices were to receive ten cents a mile for the number of miles traveled in making their settlements. A few days afterward the legislature passed a county reform law which provided that justices of the peace were not entitled to mileage in the execution of any duty. The last clearly repealed the first, but the justices still insist that they are entitled to ten cents a mile for their annual visits to the county treasurers, and Attorney General Taylor has been busy in trying to apprise them of the law in the case.

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES' DUTIES.

Regarding Poor Relief Defined by Secretary Butler.

So much confusion has arisen among township trustees over methods of distributing poor relief under the acts of 1899, that Amos W. Butler, secretary of the state board of charities, Wednesday sent out to the township trustees of the state a circular calling attention to the duties of the trustees.

The letter says that all township trustees will administer relief to needy poor under house act, No. 204, page 121, of the acts of 1899. The money will be advanced out of the county treasury and will be repaid thereto by a township the next year. After such relief has been given three months, or to the amount of $15, a statement must be submitted to the county commissioners and authority asked to give further relief. The auditor, the letter says, is required to report all poor relief withdrawals to the state board of charities.
The letter urges the trustees to make their reports promptly.

Milford now feels assured that the new cement company means business.
During the past week seven prominent stockholders of the company have cations for the new buildings are completed. One building as outlined dict that ere long the plant will be run-

Elkhart Girl Burned to Death.

Lulu, the seventeen-year-old daughter of the Rev. Charles H. Brown, of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, of Elkhart, was fatally burned Sunday, and Mr. Brown's hands and face were scorched in his efforts to smother the flames that enveloped her. She had been an invalid for several years and frequently fell in fainting attacks. One of these attacks came upon her yesterday and she fell against an oil stove, turning it over and spilling and igniting the oil. Miss Brown died last night.
Burial will be Wednesday, at Indianapolis. Mr. Brown has held charges at Sheldon, Monroeville, Peru, Wash-koko, New Castle, Lagrange and Elkhart, and his family is well known at these and other points.

Murder in Columbia City.

Harmon Barnes, of Columbia City, was shot in a saloon fight in that place Saturday night, and Sunday was not expected to live until the morning.
The murderer was Jack Wiesweaver, a paroled convict from the Jeffersonville prison who had been liberated four weeks. The murdered man lived five doors from the saloon. His brother, William, narrowly escaped a similar fate for the slayer in a fit of anger declared that he was sorry for having spared him. If the victim dies a charge of murder in the first degree will be brought against Wiesweaver.

Suggestion to Farmers.
The director of the census suggests to the agriculturists of the country that they use some of their spare time between now and June next in thoroughly preparing themselves to answer promptly and accurately the questions relative to the acreage, quantity and value of crops; the quantity and value of all farm products, animal and vegetable; the cost of fertilizers and farm labor and in fact all the items of farm operations for the calendar year 1899, which the census enumerators are by law compelled to ascertain. This, he says, will result in a full and accurate census.

DREADED DYSPEPSIA.

The New Scientific Cure for Dyspepsia and Stomach Diseases.

No person can be strong and healthy with a weak stomach. Few people realize how much depends on a strong, healthy stomach. Ninety per cent. of the diseases that afflict the human family are the result of a deranged stomach.

The use of pepsin and other drugs to stimulate this organ over an attack of indigestion is as dangerous as the disease itself.

These remedies give but temporary relief and after the effects of the drug wears away the stomach is in a worse condition than before.

A chemist, who has made stomach troubles a study for years, has discovered a combination, purely vegetable in character, that will give instant relief to the sufferer from indigestion and positively cures all forms of dyspepsia and stomach disorders.

This new remedy, called Knox Stomach Tablets, has the endorsement of several prominent physicians and has made many healthy men and women out of invalids.

These tablets act directly on the blood, liver, stomach and bowels. One box is sufficient to prove to the most skeptical that it is the greatest remedy known to medical science.

All first class druggists sell Knox Stomach Tablets. If your dealer does not keep them, don't take any other.
There is no remedy to equal this new preparation. Send 50c to the Knox Chemical Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and a full sized box will be mailed postpaid.
